DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY GENUINE.

Advice to Invalids—If you wish to obtain quiet, refreshing sleep, free from headache, relief from pain and anguish, to calm and assuage the weary achings of protracted disease, invigorate the nervous media, and regulate the circulating systems of the body, you will provide yourself with that marvellous remedy discovered by Dr. J. Collis Browne (late Army Medical Staff), to which he gave the name of CHLORODYNE and which is admitted by the profession to be the most wonderful and valuable remedy ever discovered.

CHLORODYNE is the best remedy known for Coughs, Consumption, Bronchitis, Asthma.

CHLORODYNE acts like a charm in Diarrhœa, and is the only specific in Cholera and Dysentery.

CHLORODYNE effectually cuts short all attacks of Epilepsy, Hysteria, Palpitation, and Spasms.

CHLORODYNE is the only palliative in Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Gout, Cancer, Toothache, Meningitis, &c.

From Symes & Co., Pharmaceutical Chemists, Medical Hall, Simla, January 6th, 1880. To J. T. Davenport, Esq., 33, Great Russell street, Bloomsbury, London. Dear Sir,—We embrace this opportunity of congratulating you upon the wide-spread reputation this justly esteemed medicine, Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne, has earned for itself, not only in Hindostan, but all over the East. As a remedy of general utility, we much question whether a better is imported into the country, and we shall be glad to hear of its finding a place in every Anglo-Indian home. The other brands, we are happy to say, are now relegated to the native bazaars, and, judging from their sale, we fancy their sojourn there will be but evanescent. We could multiply instances ad infinitum of the extraordinary efficacy of Dr. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne in Diarrhœa and Dysentery, Spasms, Cramps, Neuralgia, the Vomiting of Pregnancy, and as a general sedative, that have occurred under our personal observation during many years. In Choleraic Diarrhœa, and even in the most terrible forms of Cholera itself, we have witnessed its surprisingly controlling power. We have never used any other form of this medicine than Collis Browne's, from a firm conviction that it is decidedly the best, and also from a sense of duty we owe to the profession and the public, as we are of opinion that the substitution of any other than Collis Browne's is a DELIBERATE BREACH OF FAITH ON THE PART OF THE CHEMIST TO PRESCRIBER AND PATIENT ALIKE. We are, Sir, faithfully yours, Symes & Co., Members of the Pharm. Society of Great Britain, His Excellency the Viceroy's Chemists.

CAUTION.—Vice-Chancellor Sir W. Page Wood stated that Dr. J. Collis Browne was undoubtedly the Inventor of Chlorodyne, that the story of the defendant Freeman was deliberately untrue, which, he regretted to say, had been sworn to.—See "The Times," July 13, 1864.

Sold in bottles at 1s. 1½d., 2s. 9d., 4s 6d. and 11s. each. None is genuine without the words "Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne" on the Government stamp. Overwhelming medical testimony accompanies each bottle.

Caution—Beware of Piracy and Imitations.
Sole Manufacturer, J. T. DAVENPORT, 33, Great Russell Street, Bloomsbury, London.

GRAVEYARD INSURANCE.

What is meant by the term "graveyard insurance?" It is a scheme whereby the life of a very sick person is insured for a large sum by parties who agree to pay the premiums, maintain him as long as he may live, give him a decent burial upon death, and divide with his relatives the amount for which his life has been insured. In some of the States of the Union the graveyard insurance business is causing wild speculation and farmers in some counties are mortgaging their farms to pay the premiums. An aged negro named Wilson, residing a few miles from Westminster, in the State of Maryland, is living in luxury and supporting his children and their families by signing policies of insurance on his life in favor of speculators, who pay him from $20 to $100 per policy. Wilson is paralyzed on his left side, his arm and leg hanging helpless. He has not a tooth in his head, and is 87 years old. At intervals of every few days he is confined to his bed by rheumatism, and at times has attacks of heart disease, from which he suffers terribly. On the life of this grey-haired, decrepit old man, who has not been able to move out of his chair for nearly two years, there are policies of insurance ranging from $10,000 to $50,000, and aggregating over $200,000. Wilson says he has signed about one hundred policies, and more are being taken out daily. The rates of premiums on these policies are enormous, some of the companies charging as high as $100 a week for every $1000. These premiums are ruining the holders of the policies who pay them from week to week, desperately hoping that the old man will die every day. Whenever Wilson has an attack of heart disease many supposed to be holding policies on his life pass his cabin daily to inquire after his health. This is only a sample of dozens of cases that could be found in Western Maryland. The records of the county court show an astonishing increase in mortgages filed, and it has come to be accepted as evidence of graveyard speculation for a farmer to mortgage his property. These policies are taken out through secret agents of the companies, all of which are located in small towns just beyond the Pennsylvania line. These agents operate secretly, in order to escape the officers of the law. Indeed, all the transactions are conducted with the greatest secrecy. The person upon whom the insurance is effected does not know in whose favor the policy is drawn. The agent often does not know who is to be benefitted by the death, as the policy is made payable to the bearer after the death of the subject. The premiums and policy may be forwarded by a messenger to the agent, who writes a receipt for the money on the policy, which is returned the same way. There are men who make their living by acting as go betweens in such cases, and are well paid according to their reputations for secrecy and trustworthiness. Sometimes when a man is known beyond all doubt to be dying, policies for large amounts are taken out, good for twenty-four hours or longer. These policies provide that if the patient dies before the number of hours specified, the full amount insured shall be paid. If death does not occur within the time named the policies are worthless. Some weeks ago an aged negro, insured for $150,000, died. Many of the policies on his life were in a company which was bankrupt, and those who had paid thousands in premiums did not get a cent in return.

BRITISH TRADE RETURNS.

The telegraph informed us a few days ago that for the quarter ending September 30th the net increase in trade of the United Kingdom was £5,139,262. In the month of August the total imports amounted to £32,691,098, against £31,019,087 in August last year, showing an increase of rates over 6 per cent., while the exports were £21,180,675, as compared with £19,114,315, being an increase of nearly 11 per cent. Of the imports, raw cotton stands for £2,383, 947, against £1,138,296 last year; while of wheat the value imported is only £2,472,079, against £3,825,566, the quantity exhibiting of course a still further falling off, the price having risen. Both these features are favorable—the one showing an improvement in the manufacturing trade, while the other is of great importance, as showing that food requirements of the nation are less. For the rest, there is a fair increase in most of the principal articles. Turning to the exports, there is likewise an increase generally. Of coal and other fuel the value was £861,724, against £735,379; of haberdashery £407,318 against £360,316; of hardware £321,052 against £281,710; of iron and steel £2,482,518 against £2,207,169, the United States being the chief customer; of linen manufactures, £557,541 against £443,784; of silk manufactures, £235,905, against £192,254; and of woolen manufactures £934,922, against £849,226. The shipments of cotton manufactured goods show a slight decline, the amount being £5,018,159 and £5,271,862 respectively. As regards the year to date, the total imports are £263,656,018, and the exports £150,919,059, against £275,632,435 and £147,018,630 respectively in the eight months to August, 1880. A very spirited and reassuring review of English trade had just been made by Lord DERBY, in which he compares England to a person of sound and vigorous constitution, who is unduly alarmed about some topical injury. Add to all this that the English people are pleased with the liberal commercial views expressed by M. M. GAMBETTA and TIRARD, in a late speech, and have witnessed a grand pageant connected with the opening of the new docks at Liverpool, and it may be inferred that the latest mails leave the people of Great Britain—and the same is true of those of Ireland—in comparatively good spirits.

Kootenay Through Another Pair of Spectacles.

TO THE EDITOR:—The Standard has been dishing up Kootenay lately with a liberal hand—a sure sign that some rascality has been perpetrated or is meditated there. Now, sir, there are truthful and respectable people in Kootenay, but none of them are in office or in power nor do they correspond with the Standard. They are suffering, silent and patient—biding their time.

The present representatives, the J. P.'s and the government agent of Kootenay have made Kootenay a sinking fund for revenue, a cesspool of iniquity, a land where laws and rights are trampled on, outrage rewarded and crime unpunished.

They are all worthy supporters and servants of the equally worthy government. Truthful and trustworthy, honest and honorable, just and generous, from the government agent down to the premier of British Columbia.

I would fain leave the whole batch over James Bay and at Kootenay to work out their own destruction according to their lack of light and knowledge; but I cannot help noticing the action of the leading spirit in this clique when he thrust himself forward under the title of a refuter of slander. Oh! ye gods! the spy, the informer, the affidavit monger, the boasted political assassin of George Anthony Walkem and party, Mr. Fernie the government agent at Kootenay, comes out as an advocate of truth and a refuter of slander. Here is his case:

A drunken ruffian outrages and assaults a Christian missionary at his own door. News of the unprovoked and brutal attack flies like wildfire through the district. The worst passions of the white man are aroused; the slumbering, deadly hate of the red man is awakened, and the cry is for vengeance. One hand, one voice and one alone, can stem the torrent—can preserve order and prevent bloodshed. That hand and that voice belong to the insulted and assaulted minister of the gospel. And well and wisely did he act.

Knowing that in the so-called authorities at Kootenay he could place no confidence he did not ask them to adjudicate upon the matter—well knowing their action would excite men's passions beyond his power of control. He practiced the doctrine he preaches. When they smote him on the right cheek he turned to them the left. He controlled and pacified the red worshipper at the shrine where he ministers, He wrote letters to the white members of his flock counseling forgiveness, and peace was maintained by his individual efforts and his alone. And now hear this worthy constable and agent's story: He saw a letter from Father Fouquet to a friend of his in which the father said he forgave this man. The wretch can never appreciate the spirit that dictated that letter or understand the object for which it was written. The agent had a talk with an Indian Chief. The Indian said he had a good heart and there the Indian had the advantage of the agent. These statements are made by Mr. Fernie an excuse for neglecting his legitimate duties as a constable. At the same time he coolly assumes the functions of a judge by passing sentence. He writes: "From what I heard it was only a common assault." Of course the outraging and assaulting of a ROMAN Catholic priest at his own door in Kootenay is a mere trifle, not worth the notice of Fernie or the J. P.'s. Then perhaps it suits them as it appears to suit the government here, for Father Fouquet in the interest of Christianity, peace and good order interviewed the premier about this matter. The premier gave the priest a few soft, unmeaning words, a few glances and ogles out of the corner of that interesting eye of his and there the matter rests.

But the public must wait yet a little while. "Christianity cannot be tolerated or law and order respected in Kootenay nor can any man or party of men dealing with this government expect fair play under the existing order of things. Witness the treatment our local men receive as creditors in the matter of the estate of the Reid Brothers.

These men must bear with it and so must all others in like position as long as the firm of Quirk, Gammon & Snap rules British Columbia. C. B.

An Unlawful Practice.

TO THE EDITOR:—If you will allow me a small space I should like to make public the information I received yesterday, that there are some individuals who are so extremely selfish and care so little for the laws of the land as to make a practice of taking trout from some of our beautiful lakes with the net. Every one knows that this is an unlawful way of catching our gamefish, and that, though at present the lakes in the vicinity of Victoria abound with those splendid fish, the sport of taking them with the hook and line will not be of long duration if our laws are not more closely observed. I should like to see some of this stamp brought to justice and made to pay a heavy penalty for the violation of the game law. I think all sporting men will heartily endorse that sentiment, for anyone who has experienced the delightful sensation of feeling a good-sized trout tugging at the line and the pleasure and excitement of getting him safely landed, cannot but look with disgust on the greediness of one who will use a seine.

I trust that the sporting men of Victoria will take notice of this and provide some means of checking this practice before it is too late.

Clydesdales.

TO THE EDITOR:—Extract from the "Book of the Horse," written by the secretary and manager of the Islington Hall Horse Show, London:

"The Clydesdale is certainly the most taking of the cart-horse race, and only wants with his handsome head and graceful hand a little fining down to figure as a charger in the picture of some imitator of Vandyke or Rubens.

"Clydesdales are remarkable for fast action in the walk and even in the trot. The Clydesdale has more quality in head, hair, skin and style than any other cart breed. At a plough trial at Versailles, which took place during the first Paris international show, a pair of Clydesdales, as recorded in a French official report, beat easily several teams of three horses of the best French breeds, Percheron-Boulounaist. The present breed of Clydesdales is both compact and active. Messrs. Pickford & Co. (the great London carriers) for some years past have used nothing else in their railway vans and engage the exclusive services of a dealer to buy them at all the horse fairs in Scotland."

County Court.

(Before Mr. Justice Crease.)

FRIDAY, Oct. 7.

Of the two cases brought on yesterday one was adjourned till the next sitting of the court and the other for the purpose of testing costs. This was done before the registrar and did not call for the intervention of the judge.

Stafford and Goodacre, Judgment creditors.

Snider & Duval, Judgment debtors.

Victoria Corporation, Garnishees.

Messrs. Drake & Jackson appeared for the judgment creditors and the garnishees and Mr. Pollard appeared for the judgment debtors and for Messrs. Bossi & Giesselman assignees of the debt.

The facts are as follows: In the month of May last Duval agreed to supply to the corporation 600 bushels of charcoal for $180 the contract to be completed on the 20th June last. On the 3rd of June the judgment creditors attached the said sum of $180 in the hands of the corporation and the order nisi attaching the same should have come up for hearing on the 13th of June.

The present application was to make the said order nisi absolute.

Mr. Russell was called and proved the agreement made with the corporation by Duval, and that there is now due to Duval $180 by the corporation.

Mr. Pollard contended that by the evidence of Mr. Russell there was no debt either due or accruing at the time of the attachment, although there was a contract subsisting, which when carried out would then constitute a debt due from the corporation to Duval. That there must be an absolute and unqualified indebtedness at the time of the attachment and there must be a perfected debt in order to entitle a judgment creditor to the benefit of an attachment and in support of this he quoted the case of Hall vs. Pritchett 3 R. B. D. Also the case of Jones vs. Thompson 27 L. J. R. Q. B. in which Wrightman, J., distinctly lays down the principle contended for,and in which Crompton,J., says that there must still be a debt which though not due in point of payment is yet an absolute debt, that it is not sufficient that in all probability there will be a debt as in the case of rent not yet due.

Mr. Jackson contended that as soon as the contract was signed there was a debt accruing which would be due when the contract was completed and consequently that it was attachable as being an accruing though not a perfected debt.

Decision was reserved till later in the day when the court decided that on the authorities quoted the attachment should be dismissed with costs on the ground that there was no money at the time of the attachment, either due or accruing from the Corporation to Snider and Duval.

The next meeting of the court will be on the 14th inst. when the suit Meyer vs. Aden will be heard.

FRIDAY, Oct. 7.

Two Indian drunks were disposed of in the usual way.

Lucy, charged with having two bottles of gin in her possession,was discharged in order that the party supplying the bottles might be arrested for the offence.

THE CLUB CASE.

Mr. T. Davie remarked that it was difficult to get justices of the peace to sit on the case as they did not wish to leave their business for that purpose. He would therefore ask for a further adjournment till Tuesday next.

Mr. A. E. B. Davie for the defence stated that in all probability the case would be removed to the Supreme Court by writ of certiorari. If so notice would be given by the other side.

Adjourned therefore till Tuesday.

SELLING LIQUOR WITHOUT A LICENCE.

A. McBroom was charged with selling liquor without a license by C. Giesslemann.

Mr. A. E. B. Davie and Mr. Wall for prosecution and Mr. M. W. T. Drake for defence.

Mr. A. E. B. Davie stated the circumstances of the case so far as he had been instructed, which were that on or about the 24th of August, 1881, the defendant sold some whiskey to Mrs. Heal of Lake district. This was found in a jar in her wagon by the plaintiff who called Sergt. Bloomfield's attention to it.

C. Giesslemann, sworn — On the 24th August Mrs. Heal bought two gallons of rye whiskey from witness, but did not take it away because she had no jar to put it in; her wagon was standing infront of McBroom's store; she went to borrow a jar from McBroom and returned in ten minutes or a quarter of an hour, but without a jar and said she was sorry to trouble witness, but she had bought the liquor with a jar from the store just above and did not want what she had purchased at his store; went to her wagon about 20 minutes after she returned the second time and called sergeant Bloomfield's attention to a jar of liquor in the wagon; he tasted it and said it was whiskey, sure enough.

To Mr. Drake—Do you not think that you are as good a judge of whiskey as the sergeant? (Laughter.)

Witness continued — Defendant heard him tell sergeant Bloomfield that he thought the whiskey was bought from defendant's store; defendant said, "you can't prove that."

Cross-examined by Mr. Drake—Defendant is carrying on the same kind of business as himself; the 24th August was the correct date and not the 14th; did not take proceedings before because he had not time; am the prosecutor in the case with his partner, Mr. Bossi; sell whiskey at all prices; sold rye whiskey at $2.50 a gallon; was not annoyed at losing the sale; took proceedings because it was very wrong for a brother Oddfellow to treat him in that way, particularly as he and Mr. Bossi had both assisted him; did not ask Mrs. Heal where she had got the liquor; defendant did the same thing last fall or the summer before; examined Mrs. Heal's wagon to make sure he was right.

Mrs. Heal, sworn—Remembered being in Bossi & Giesslemann's store in August or September, 1881, to buy some rye whiskey; Mr. Giesslemann attended upon her; did not take any away because he could not, or would not, lend a jar to put it in; went away to get a jar and returned in ten or fifteen minutes; told him she could do better elsewhere and left; had not purchased any liquor at that time; purchased some that day of Turner, Beeton & Co. and drove her wagon down for it; then drove back to McBroom's store and bought some groceries; did not know whether anything was wrapped around the liquor; paid for it in cash; went to Turner, Beeton & Co.'s at the suggestion of defendant; there was no jar of whisky in the wagon at that time; had never bought whiskey of McBroom at any time.

Mr. Davie said his instructions were incorrect, and he had no other course than to withdraw from the prosecution as the case had fallen to the ground.

Mr. Drake remarked that Mr. McBroom had never sold liquor to any one since he had been in business as a grocer. This was a case in which one word from Mr. Giesslemann to Mrs. Heal would have saved all the proceedings. It was persecution on the part of plaintiff. With reference to a second case of selling whiskey without a license in August, 1880, he remarked that it was entirely out of date, as it should have been brought within three months from the time the offence was committed.

Mr. Walls contended that there was no limit as to time in such cases.

His Worship remarked that the second case was debarred by the time limit and that the summonses should not have been issued.

Mr. Drake asked for costs, as the prosecution was entirely uncalled for.

His Honor dismissed both cases with $12.50 costs, remarking that if there had been neighborly feeling between the parties the suit would not have been brought at all.

Mrs. Heal's witness fees were not allowed as the magistrate considered that she did not treat the plaintiff right by purchasing the liquor and not taking it.

Mr. Drake remarked that this was very often done, in fact he did it himself occasionally.

Marine.

The American ship Harry Morse, Capt. C. H. Brooks, arrived in Royal Roads early yesterday morning in ballast, 113 days from Rio Janerio. She experienced very severe weather for 26 days in getting round Cape Horn. After that met with head winds and calms all the way to this port. She was 20 days getting up from the latitude of San Francisco. The ship was chartered to load wheat at Portland for the U. K., but not being able to reach there by the 1st inst. the charter was broken. She is now for orders and may load lumber or coal. Spoke a heavily laden English ship off Cape Flattery bound for this port, supposed to be either the Chilcc or the Prince Rupert.

The captain of the ship Harry Morse has received instructions from the charterers at Portland to proceed there at once for his cargo of wheat as they will not cancel the charter notwithstanding the vessel being several days over the time specified in making that port.

Teredo Proof.

The ravages of the marine worm called the teredo navalis are so widespread and well known that any informati a tending to lesson them will be hailed with much satisfaction by those who have to keep up or build wharves and other structures upon piles partly under salt water. In eight or nine years fir piles are completely destroyed, eaten off, in fact, by this salt water borer; hence constant renewal has to be resorted to or copper sheathing, an outside covering of nails or some other expensive expedient adopted to preserve timber under such circumstances. Mr. Wm. Clark of this city has been experimenting for many years and watching the result of the submersion of timber called cottonwood and he has come to the conclusion that the teredo will not touch it. The texture of this wood seems to be too soft and woolly for it to work until the timber itself begins to decay. He says that cottonwood side by side with fir under salt water for many years shows that while the fir is completely eaten through the other remains intact, and that cutting into it with an axe fully demonstrates that the worm has not been at work on it at all. If cottonwood will bear the test of further experiment and is all that Mr. Clark claims for it, this discovery is really of very great importance, as the supply of this timber, on the mainland particularly, is practically inexhaustible. It is only a question of a little more tonnage to this city or other points on the coast where piles may be required.

There are several strictly vegeterian restaurants in London. The first was opened some five or six years ago by a Scotchman, who now entertains over seven hundred persons a day, and is making a fortune. It is said that the prices are very moderate, that the cooking is excellent, and that the place and the attendants are scrupulously neat. In another eating-house of the same kind three courses of vegetables and fruits are sold for a shilling. Another does not hold strictly to vegetarianism, but serves fish to its customers. In none of them can intoxicating liquors be bought.

At a meeting of Irishmen held near Glasgow at the end of August Miss Parnell said:—"I want you, the electors of Glasgow, to promise me now that whenever you get the chance you will work, each one of you as ten men, to put out any followers of that wretched, hypocritical, bloodthirsty miscreant, Wm. Gladstone—(cheers)—that man who is having your countrymen and countrywomen slaughtered now at home to suit his own vanity." Mr. Rylett, speaking at an election meeting on Saturday, termed the Home Secretary "Red Indian Harcourt" and "the most disreputable coward and the most unscrupulous liar and slanderer in the Government."

The officers of the 92d Highlanders, at present in South Africa, inaugurated the new territorial scheme with befitting ceremonial. They gave a dinner, at which there was a large number of guests, and towards midnight the toast of the 92d was drunk with all the honors. The company then proceeded to a tent, which was lighted by six blazing torches held by Highlanders. Here a life-size figure dressed in the uniform of the regiment, was lying in state. When twelve o'clock struck the figure was placed in the coffin. A procession, headed by the pipers, playing an appropriate tune, was then formed, and the "mortal remains" were conveyed to a grave some distance away, in which they were deposited. On the lid of a coffin was a plate with the following inscription; "Poor old Ninety-two. Born 1794. Died 1881, of a severe attack of Childers."

Says the London Truth:—A friend of mine, who has returned from accompanying his wife to a French watering-place, has revealed to me secrets which are calculated to destroy the illusions appertaining to the nymphs that disport in French waves. He went with his wife to buy a bathing dress in Paris. There he discovered that beneath the tight-fitting jersey which is now the fashionable dress for the water, stays are worn, and many appliances to aid in fashioning a beauteous figure. I remember going with a lady to bathe at one of these French watering-places. We both emerged from our respective machines. Near me I saw a beauteous vision. Her hair was flowing round her shoulders, her eyes glistened, her cheeks were bright with color, and her dress lent beauty to a beautiful figure. Soon a wave came. I missed my friend. Close by me was a haggard female, her form angular and scraggy; her nose was blue and her cheeks hollow; a wisp of hair not larger than a rat's tail was hanging from her head. Where was the glorious vision that had stood by me? A voice came from the chattering teeth of the hag. It was the vision; but, oh, how changed!

Sensational Street Scene at the National Capital.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15. —A sensational scene occurred on New York Avenue, near Twenty fourth street, to-day. Colonel Boyd, who publishes the Washington Business Directory, was walking down the avenue with a handsome young lady. Suddenly a carriage stopped at the curbing immediately opposite them, and Mrs. Boyd, wife of the Colonel, jumped out. She produced a cowhide and began to lash the young lady unmercifully. The young lady ran, Mrs. Boyd following, but bystanders interfered after a few strokes had been administered. Then Boyd, at his wife's command, meekly entered the carriage with her and was driven away.

Rough on the Knights.

(New York World.)

In the good old days when the Duke of Richmond was Lord Lieutenant of Ireland he took it into his head, being in his cups, to knight one Thady Cuffe, a Dublin tavern-keeper. Next day his Grace wished to undo what he had done, and calling Cuffe, offered a compromise "Your Gace," said the gallant Knight, "I'd be willing to do it, but Lady Cuffe would sooner part wid her life nor the title!" The Canadian knights are somewhat in the Sir Thady's position—they find that their countrymen deride their titles, and they would quietly drop them if they could; but respect for her Majesty and, above all, a regard for domestic opinion forbid it. It must grieve the heart of Sir Bernard Burke to see with what levity the Canadian journals speak of those who, according to the old parchment, "have been found true, tried and trusty and worthy of this ancient mark of royal grace, favor and affection." One knight, having kept a drug store in his early days, is irreverntly called "Sir Bolus;" another is known as "Sir Chicago No. 2," from his occupation as a dusty miller; a third is dubbed "Sir Mackerel," because he earned the honor at the Halifax Fishery Commission; and the fourth is styled "Sir Busted," inasmuch as he was president of a bank which went down in the last panic. When the loyal burgesses of England presented addresses to George III, on his escape from the hands of Margaret Nicholson, the king distributed titles very lavishly, and a "Knight of the Order of Peg Nicholson" became an object of ridicule, and it was universally held that that brand of knighthood was so cheap and tawdry as these Nova Scotian baronetcies which in the days of the Stuarts were sold together with a land patent for what they would fetch. In the Dominion, however, knighthood not only exposes the bearer to scorn, but does not shield him from public insult. Our despatches this morning tell of a scene at Nanaimo, B. C., between Sir Charles Tupper and Mr. Bunster, M. P. for that district. The British Columbians are a singularly democratic people. Most of them are Indians and Chinese, while the white minority are chiefly graduates of the Californian mining camps and faro banks. Mr. Bunster, too, is a very patriotic Irishman, and in his place in the Dominion House of Commons at Ottawa often thunders against the importation of exotics from the Herald's College. Mr. Bunster, although a political follower of Sir Charles, who is Dominion Minister of Railways, wants the Government to build a railway from the mainland of British Columbia across the Gulf of Georgia or Queen Charlotte's Sound to Vancouver's Island, a project about as feasible as the construction of a road from Nantucket to the west coast of Cork. This Sir Charles refused to do, and so Mr. Bunster first recieves him as a guest of the town, and then publicly falls upon and rends him. It was evidently a mistake for the Dominion Government to send a Knight as its ambassador to the British Columbians.

A FORGOTTEN TERRITORY.

Neither Germany nor Belgium will Surrender their Rights, and so it has Two Governments.

"A forgotten territory" is the appropriate title given by a writer in the report of the Berne Geographical Society to a little bit of land that seems to have cropped out of count when the victors were dividing the spoil of Napoleon's fall, at the Congress of Vienna, in 1814. This territory originally formed part of the French Canton of Aubel, in the department of Oterthe, and when the commissioners came to trace the new frontiers of their respective countries it was found that Moresnet, as the territory is called, had been allotted neither to Prussia nor Belgium. It was wisely agreed that, pending a final decision of the two governments, the territory should be under a common administration, which still exists, for the final decision has never yet been come to. Moresnet has less than 3,000 inhabitants; has the same taxes as when under the French, which amount to only one franc a head all over; the descendants of the original population are not liable to military service; Belgian and Prussian goods are exempt from import duties, and there are several other privileges which give this neutral territory all the advantages of complete independence at a nominal cost. Moresnet possesses valuable zinc mines; hence, no doubt the unwillingness of both Belgium and Prussia to give up their rights. It is connected with the outside world by a branch of the Belgian railway system, which connects it with Montejoie. The executive power is delegated by the two governments to a burgomaster and their functionaries, and suitors can have their cases tried either by Prussian or Belgian courts. The territory is governed by the Code Napoleon, as it was in 1814; it has several schools, and is under the spiritual jurisdiction of the Bishop of Liége. Were the zinc mines exhausted probably neither Prussia nor Belgium would care much about enforcing its rights.

CANADA'S DEBT.

A New York Journal has a Word to Say to Mr. Labouchor

BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 23—The Telegraph says:—"If Mr. Labouchere, M. P., an advanced Liberal, had known anything of his subject he would not have been so ready with his slings at Canada, and his growling about her public debt, which has apparently come out of his own pocket. We in Buffalo and New York generally have reason to be aware that about nineteen-twentieths of Canada's debt was incurred for productive purposes. She has been busy constructing a water highway from the lakes to the Atlantic, which threatens, unless our public men display something of activity and foresight, to take a large part of our carrying commerce from us. She is constructing a Pacific railway which pierces the northern grain belt, and whose branches will in a few years render Minnesota and Dakota independent of the Chicago outlet for their grain. She has overcome the blockade of winter transportation by constructing a railway from Quebec to Halifax, one of the best built and equipped in the world, over which she is doing a profitable business. Canada is getting along quite actively enough for the carrying interests of New York, and unless this state bestirs herself she will see a large portion of the commerce which has made the route from Buffalo to New York its channel seeking outlet at the ocean port of Montreal."

THE MAN Wowters, who attempted to blow up several families at Lille, was a Belgian locksmith, who, when the religious orders were expelled from Lille, volunteered to force the locks of a convent there. He was consequently rigidly "Boycotted" by his townspeople, became bankrupt and fled to Belgium. In revenge he sent five boxes of explosives to various families. Wowters recently encountered near Douai a woman against whom he had a grudge and fired at her and being pursued he blew out his brains.

Her naive reply was: "O, I am one of the litter."

Tit Bits from "Truth."

It would seem that within a few years there will not be a district in England unblessed by the presence of some description of Roman Catholic institution. Last week the Jesuits purchased a large villa and grounds near Paignton, near Torquay, for £6,000, which is to be forthwith converted into a college of the Society. They have been negotiating for the Imperial Hotel at Dover, with similar intentions. It is great barrack of a place, and having proved a complete failure, has been closed for several years.

A very unsatisfactory item is the demand for £39,000, the rent of Cyprus—that precious bargain of the late ministry. It appears that the imprisonment of Cetewayo costs over £4,000 a year, one way and another; and it seems highly absurd, to say nothing of the injustice, to keep him in expensive captivity for having defended himself against unwarrantable aggression; besides, he is now perfectly harmless, and could do us no harm, even if he were ill-disposed, which there is every reason to believe he is not. It is all vastly fine to talk of repayment from South Africa, but everyone knows well enough that the cost will come out of the Imperial Exchequer, and requests to the colonists to fulfil their obligations will lead to nothing but much correspondence. The sooner Cetewayo is released the better.

BURNETT'S COCOAINE.

A Lady's Hair Saved by its Use.

BURNETT'S COCOAINE will keep the hair in a strong and healthy condition by stimulating the roots of the hair and restoring the natural action upon which its growth depends. Twenty years ago a single bottle saved a lady's hair in a desperate case where everything had failed; and since that early success thousands of cases of Baldness, Dandruff, Loss of Hair and Irritation of the Scalp have yielded to this remedy. *

A LADY recently deceased aged 99 years and 6 months, mother of 20 children, 10 of whom became parents of large families. There were present at her funeral 200 persons who had a right to call her mother or grandmother. The cause of her long life was attributed to her eccentric and positive movements. She was handsome, powerful, quiet, and reliable, had many friends, in fact we must add with all her excellent points and superiority she was a model of perfection. Her children will retain her revered name as a comfort and a blessing to all nations not excepting British Columbia, The light silent Wanzer. T.W. Fletcher is sole agent for this life preserving machine, Fort street. *

DEATH IN THE COFFEE POT.—The public are cautioned against purchasing imported California ground coffee. Its cheapness is its only recommendation. The ingredients are of the vilest description, as anyone using it will discover should he examine the grounds. During the perihelia of the planets people should be careful what they eat and drink. Don't allow your grocer to palm off his trash upon you, because it pays him better to sell it than the good article. Ask for FELL & Co.'s Coffee and take no other. *

ORDERS for piano tuning should be left at M. W. WAITT & Co. before October 1st Prof. Francis will be absent a few weeks after that date to fill orders in Oregon and Puget Sound.

DENTISTRY.—Mr. R. B. Thompson, Dentist. Nitrous Oxide Gas (Laughing Gas) administered for the painless extraction of teeth. Reduced charges for plate work. Office, upstairs in the Old Masonic Building, Government street. Hours, 9 a.m. to 5 p. m. *

CUSTOMS BLANKS.—Duty blanks with with the new form of oath attached are now on sale at The Colonist stationery store. *

PURGE out the morbid humors of the blood by a dose or two of Ayer's Pills; and you will have clearer heads as well as healthier bodies. *
